Dear Hugh:

As you can well imagine, our conversation was the most encouraging thing that has happened to me in some time. I am anxiously awaiting the arrival of the material that we discussed.

Confirming our talk, it will be a pleasure to go over the manuscript carefully to eliminate any libelous material. Further, my associates will attempt to reinforce those points which appear to need strengthening. This latter will be done as much as possible on a "need to know" basis.

I am sending under separate cover the material which I promised. You should receive it in a few days.

Again, my congratulations.

Warm regards,

Bernard Fensterwald, Jr.
